The nation's estimated population on this July 4 is 316.2 million.

Join us July 6th for Fourth of July weekend Saturday Brunch.

Last month Chef Denese made her scrumptious cheesy grits, and shrimp along with ham and potatoes, roasted chicken wings and pasta. To top it all off we had fresh strawberry shortcake and of course many other sweets to choose from. The weather was great so many enjoyed the feast outdoors around the pool.

Fishing off Ft. Lauderdale

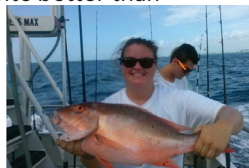

FORT LAUDERDALE SNAPPER SPAWN

Posted on June 21, 2013 by Captain Andy, mangrove snapper These girls caught a nice mangrove snapper in Ft Lauderdale Snappers are snapping fishing the reefs of Ft Lauderdale. June is an excellent month for snapper fishing in Ft Lauderdale. This week, we're coming up onto the full moon. Every year, the few nights surrounding the June full moon is the snapper spawn. This is when snappers congregate and undergo their spawning habits. When this is going on, the bite is fierce. The fish throw caution to the wind and bite everything you throw at them.

NICE MUTTON SNAPPER CAUGHT FISHING ON THE CATCH MY DRIFT

Mutton snappers are the main spawning snapper of June. They gather in 40-100ft of water, in the sandy areas outside and inside the reef. These few nights, the mutton snappers bite better than the entire rest of the year. Mainly they will weigh 4-10 pounds, but a few will get into the teens and could even reach 20. Ballyhoo plugs, whole sardines, cigar minnows, and strip baits work very well for muttons. Live pinfish, although a favorite of mine for fishing the keys, doesn't work as well as other baits for Ft Lauderdale muttons.

25 POUND GAG GROUPEL CAUGHT BOTTOM FISHING IN FT LAUDERDALE

Mangrove snappers also bite exceptionally well in June during the mutton spawn. The full moon in general is a good time for mangroves, but there must be something in water in June because the snapper go crazy! 3-5 pound mangroves have been biting during the afternoon trips and on the night trips the past few days. We should have some excellent snapper fishing on our night anchor trips for the next week during the June full moon. Good luck fishing everyone, I'll sea ya on the water.

Tips to stabilize/prevent high cholesterol:

- Maintaining a healthy weight is a great place to start. The good news is that the diet and exercise recommendations for improving cholesterol levels can also help you lose weight.
- Eat a balanced, healthy diet that's low in fat, sodium and cholesterol. Include plenty of fresh fruits, vegetables and whole grains, because a high-fiber diet can lower cholesterol.
- Get at least 30 minutes of physical activity several days a week.
- Quitting smoking can lower cholesterol levels, too.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE MIAMI HEAT FOR AN AWESOME CHAMPIONSHIP WIN!

The fireworks are coming but in the sports world we have definitely entered the "dog days of summer." The NBA Playoffs have culminated, NHL Hockey is over and we are month away from the start of Miami Dolphin and Miami Hurricane Football. Looking to pass the time this month and avoid the hot weather? There is no better way than to watch the Miami Marlins on a big screen. The Marlin management has been highly criticized, and with good reason. However, the fact remains that they have a group of young players who are here to compete and make a name for themselves. Despite the last place record there have been signs as they have been playing .500 ball as of late.

It's a natural history epic. It's a compelling detective story. It's a scientific adventure at its best. It took Dr. Fred Urquhart almost 40 years to discover the monarch butterflies' secret hideaway and prove the most incredible migration on Earth. Following the year-long annual migration cycle of the butterflies, the award-winning production team filmed hundreds of millions of monarchs in their remote wintering sanctuaries in Mexico in 2011 and again in 2012 and also along their migratory routes from Canada, across the U.S. and into Mexico. The IMAX 3D technology immerses you in the astounding migration experience as two generations of the butterflies migrate north and then a Super Generation miraculously finds its way from Canada to a few isolated mountaintops in Mexico - to a place it has never been!

HURRICANE FIND A SAFE HARBOR

Lessons learned from recent hurricanes can help boaters in Southeast Florida protect their boats against the ravages of these devastating storms.

One thing we've learned from hurricane storms is that the central and southeast coast offers much greater protection than other areas of the state such as the west coast and panhandle. Another is that good preparation and choosing the right location for storm shelter can substantially reduce storm damage. In addition, fully half of all those boats that were severely damaged or destroyed were the result of owners who took inadequate, or no protective measures at all. Those boats that suffered the least damage were not just lucky; they had owners who were most knowledgeable about hurricanes and made the best preparations. Overall boat loss and damage could easily be reduced by as much as 50% if boat owners were better educated about how to protect their boats.

Be Safe. Don't Boat under the influence.

Operation Dry Water 2013 is a coordinated effort between several agencies, both local and nationwide, working together to reduce the number of accidents and fatalities related to BUI, according to the Everglades National Park News Release. Officers during Operation Dry Water will be looking for boaters with a blood alcohol content over the legal state limit of .08. For example, impaired boaters in Everglades National Park can be fined up to $5,000 and up to six months in jail. "We are dedicated to keeping boaters safe on our waters. Boating is a safe and enjoyable pastime when people stay alert and follow the rules," said Superintendent Dan Kimball. "You will see our officers from Key Largo and Flamingo out on the water in Florida Bay, and from our Gulf Coast District in Everglades City, ensuring that everyone can enjoy a day of safe boating.
